7 THE USE OF THE ARTICLES WITH THE NOUNS: SCHOOL, HOSPITAL, TOWN, BED, CHURCH, PRISON, MARKET, SEA, TABLE

A. The nouns school, college, university, hospital, prison, jail, camp, church, court, bed, table and occasionally market are used without any article when, as part of set phrases, they lose their concrete meaning and express the purpose which the objects denoted by these nouns serve. Thus “hospital” comes to denote “treatment”, “prison” – “punishment”, “school” – “studies”, “bed” – “sleep”, etc.

To be at school/ college/ university
To go to school/ college/ university
To leave school/ college

After I left school I went to university (as a student)
In church/ at church
Mrs. Kelly goes to church on Sundays (to pray)

To be in prison
To be sent to prison/ jail; to be put in prison (as prisoners)
To be relieved from prison

Ken’s brother is in prison for robbery

To go to bed/ to be in bed/ to stay in bed (sleeping or resting)
To go to court/ to be in court (as litigants or witnesses)
To go to hospital/ to be in hospital (as patients)
To go to (the) market
To be at table (to eat)

When these places are visited or used for other reasons “the” is necessary:

I went to the church to see the stained glass.
He goes to the prison to give lectures.
Madame Duclerk sat at the table darning socks.

B. HOME
When home is used alone, i.e. Is not preceded or followed by a descriptive word or phrase, THE is omitted.

He is at home.

Home used alone can be placed directly after a verb of motion or a verb of motion + an object, i.e. it can be treated as an adverb:

He went home. I arrived home after dark. I sent him home.

We can also stay at home or feel at home.

But when home is preceded or followed by a descriptive word or phrase it is treated like any other noun:

An orphans home, a nursing home, a maternity home.

We went to their new home.

We arrived at the bride's home.

For some years this was the home of your queen.

Place where an animal or a plant is native: the home of the tiger.

C. SEA

We go to sea as sailors

To be at sea = to be on a voyage (as passengers or crew).

But we go or be at the sea = to go or to be at the seaside.

D. TOWN

THE can be omitted when speaking of the subject’s or speaker’s own town; the centre or business part of a town.

We go to town sometimes to buy clothes.

We were in town last Monday.

Ex. 38 Complete the sentences. Use in, at or to and these words: bed, church college, factory, home, hospital, library, prison, shop, town, work.

8 Modification by Of-Phrase

“Of-phrase” is the most frequently used prepositional phrase in modern English. It may be used as:

a) a descriptive attribute
b) a limiting attribute

A. The meanings of phrases with descriptive of-phrases are as follows:

1) a container with its contents: a cup of tea, a bottle of milk, a box of matches, a glass of water.
2) a certain quantity: a lump of sugar, a slice of lemon, a pinch of salt.
3) measure: a temperature of +20, a distance of three miles, a box of two tons.
4) origin: a native of Wales, a man of Kent, a descendant of a good family.
5) characteristics of an object: a woman of great charm, a man of courage, a matter of urgency.
6) age: a man of middle age, a boy of five.
7) material of thing is made of: a ring of gold, a coat of mail, a box of cedar wood, a wall of glass.
8) composition: a group of children, a flock of birds, a herd of deer

9) two objects of the same kind or an object consisting of two parts of the same kind: a brace of peasants, a pair of loves, a pair of trousers.
10) indication of implied analogy: a beast of a man, a peach of a girl, a gem of a housekeeper, a fool of a man.
The “of-phrase” is a descriptive attribute in a construction called “the double genitive” as it contains the of-genitive and the s-genitive: a friend of my brother’s, a daughter of Mr. Parker’s, a book of my own, a pen of mine.
Nouns modified by descriptive of-phrases usually take the indefinite article.

B. The of-phrase may have a limiting force in case it points to the singleness of an object or a notion and expresses:
   a) belonging (in abroad sense) – the foot of the mountain, the collar of the shirt, the development of science, the shot of a gun.
   b) more precise definition – the name of John, the city of New York, the position of a teacher, the colour of amber.
